CETPA will follow-up last year's successful debut of the Spring Mini-Conference by returning to the same venue and staying with the same program format. The Spring Mini-Conference is structured as a one-day event focused solely upon the concepts for, plus planning and execution of two subjects crucial to the on-going success of K-12 technology practitioners. For 2003, the strands are:

- 'Doing More With Less'
- 'High Speed Video Connectivity – Soup to Nuts'

This event is in response to feedback collected at CETPA's 2002 Conference, as well as to address concepts and techniques for being effective in the face of unprecedented budget cuts.

The 2003 Spring Mini Conference is scheduled for Thursday, May 1, and will be held at the CSU Chancellor's Office at 414 Golden State in Long Beach, 90801-1110.
